

Here is what your Consulate does for you

A Consulate is a Mexican Government office, whose main mission is to protect your rights and interests.

Community Affairs

Institute of Mexicans Abroad

We implement programs on:

Education

Culture

Health

Economic development

Leadership training

Community empowerment

All are welcome

Consular Protection

This is the area in charge of protecting your rights when you are abroad. You will always find the support you need at your Consulate, regardless of your immigration status. We focus on:

Immigration

Human Rights

Criminal

Administrative

Labor

Family

Alliances

Mexican consulates broadcast consular programs and services through collaboration with many different partners, including:

- Community leaders
- Local authorities
- School Districts
- Migrant groups
- Media
- Religious, banking and academic institutions

Consular Services

Documentation

- Passport
- Consular registration
- Voting card
- Military booklet

Civil Registry

- Birth registration
- Marriage registration
- Birth certificates
- Death certificates

Notary

- Powers of Attorney
- Wills

VAIM

The Initiative for the Comprehensive Care of Women (VAIM) provides empowerment tools and protects women's rights.

